Sarah Brock at work on one of the models for London Fashion Week

CALNE based Professional Makeup Artist Sarah Brock has just returned from London Fashion Week working with celebrity makeup artist Daniel Sandler.

Mrs Brock, who was promoted to artistic director of makeup for Daniel Sandler in May, was delighted to be selected by Daniel to work at the prestigious event.

Mr Sandler and his team of makeup artists created stunning makeup for the models at the Georgina Harley-Smith show last Sunday.

Mrs Brock said: "To be part of the buzz for London Fashion Week was so exciting, it was hard work, but I loved every second".

Mrs Brock was featured in Brides Magazine as one of the South West's top makeup artists for bridal makeup and since working with Daniel Sandler she was the head makeup artist at the 2007 Elle Magazine Style Awards, was a makeup artist and guest speaker on the GHD Expert Tour and has articles featured in Now Magazine and many bridal and fashion publications.
